As part of the programme, a total of 171 ‘Pothichors’ were prepared and distributed in front of the Regional Cancer Centre (RCC), Thiruvananthapuram. The initiative witnessed enthusiastic participation from both staff and students. Each member of the college contributed wholeheartedly either by preparing, packing, or distributing the food packets.

The event created a heartwarming experience, as people gratefully accepted the meals with smiles, making the day truly meaningful for all participants.

The programme was carried out successfully under the able guidance and leadership of the following coordinators:

- General Convenor: Dr. Lakshmi. S, Principal, BNVCTE
- Programme Coordinator: Mrs. Feba Samuel, Assistant Professor, BNVCTE
- Student Coordinators: Afiya Fathima A (B.Ed 1 Year Mathematics) and Saandra V Senan (B.Ed 1 Year Malayalam)

The active involvement of both teachers and students made the event remarkable. The initiative also strengthened the values of service, empathy, and commitment towards society, which are essential qualities for every teacher in training.

Through this act of kindness, Snehapothi became more than just a charity drive; it symbolized love, care, and togetherness. It reflected the true spirit of BNV CTE, where education is seen not only as an academic pursuit but also as a means of shaping socially committed citizens.

The programme concluded successfully with immense satisfaction and happiness among both givers and receivers. By sharing food, love, and humanity, BNV CTE once again proved that collective efforts, even if small in scale, can create a profound impact in society.
