On July 31, 2024, BNV College of Teacher Education proudly hosted a seminar dedicated to the theme of communicative English, aptly titled "Let's Talk Good English." This engaging event was designed to enhance the communication skills of students, preparing them for the demands of both academic and professional environments where English proficiency is crucial.

The seminar featured Mr. Rajesh Mohan, a distinguished Certified Psycho Linguistic Trainer, Strategic Communication Coach, and Mind Power Trainer, who served as the resource person for the session. With his extensive background in communication strategies and psychological principles, Mr. Mohan brought a wealth of knowledge and practical experience to the table. His engaging presentation style captivated the audience, making complex concepts accessible and relatable.

Throughout the session, students were encouraged to participate actively, engaging in discussions and exercises that reinforced the concepts being taught. Mr. Mohan facilitated interactive activities that allowed participants to practice their speaking skills in a supportive environment, helping to alleviate the anxiety often associated with public speaking. By fostering a sense of community among attendees, the seminar created a safe space for students to express themselves and learn from one another

The seminar concluded with a Q&A session, where students had the opportunity to seek clarification on specific topics and share their personal experiences related to learning and using English. Mr. Mohan's approachable demeanor and willingness to engage with the audience left a lasting impression, inspiring many students to continue developing their communication skills beyond the seminar.

Overall, the "Let's Talk Good English" seminar at BNV College of Teacher Education was a resounding success, providing students with essential tools and techniques to enhance their communicative competence. The event not only enriched their understanding of effective communication but also instilled a sense of confidence in their ability to articulate their thoughts
